Article 4: Object

The purpose of the present General Conditions of Use is to define the terms and conditions for making the information on the Site available. Any access to or use of the Site implies acceptance of and compliance with all the terms of these GCUs and their unconditional acceptance. They therefore constitute a contract between the Company and the user. In the event that the user does not wish to accept all or part of these GCU, he is requested to renounce any use of the Site.

Article 5: Access to the service

The Site is accessible free of charge by any user with Internet access. All costs related to access to the site, whether hardware, software or Internet access, are exclusively the responsibility of the user. The user is solely responsible for the proper functioning of his computer equipment and Internet access. The Company reserves the right to refuse access to the site, unilaterally and without prior notice, to any user who does not comply with these conditions of use. The Company uses all reasonable means at its disposal to ensure quality access to the site, but is under no obligation to do so. The Company cannot be held responsible for any malfunction of the network, servers or any other event beyond reasonable control, which would prevent or degrade access to the Site.

The Company reserves the right to change, modify, interrupt or temporarily suspend access to all or part of the Site without notice, in order to ensure maintenance, updating or for any other reason deemed necessary, without the interruption giving rise to any obligation or compensation. The Company shall not be liable for any direct or indirect damage in connection with such modifications.

Article 6: Intellectual Property

The Site is owned by the Company. All elements of the Site, including the layout and content, are the intellectual property of the Company and are protected by intellectual property laws, in particular the amended law of April 18, 2001 on copyright, related rights and databases and the Benelux Convention on intellectual property. It is forbidden to reproduce, in whole or in part, the Site or its contents, without the express written authorization of the Company.

Article 7: Protection of privacy and personal data

Any personal data of users collected through the Site will be included in its files and will be used only for purposes specific to the context defined by these GTC binding the Company and the users of its website. Any personal data that the user communicates on the Site shall be processed in accordance with the European Regulation No. 2016/679 on the protection of individuals with regard to the processing of personal data (the “Data Protection Act”). However, this data may also be transferred to other entities with the prior consent of the user or if the law or a competent administration makes the transfer mandatory. In accordance with the Data Protection Act, the user has the right to access, modify or object to the processing of data concerning him. The user may exercise this right by contacting the Company directly by post or by e-mail at the following address contact@rcarre.com

Article 8 : Limits of liability

The Site is an information site about the Company and its services. The information published on the Site comes from sources deemed reliable. However, the Company cannot guarantee the accuracy or relevance of this data. In addition, the information made available on this site is for information purposes only and does not constitute advice or a recommendation of any kind. Consequently, the use of the information and content available on the Site as a whole does not in any way engage the responsibility of the Company, in any capacity whatsoever. The user is solely responsible for the proper use, with discernment and spirit, of the information made available on the Company. Furthermore, the user undertakes to indemnify the Company for any harmful consequences linked directly or indirectly to the use he makes of the Site. The user is informed that one or more cookies, which do not contain any personal information, may be placed on his hard disk to ensure his identification. The user admits knowing the limitations and constraints of the Internet network and, as such, recognizes the impossibility of a total guarantee of the security of data exchanges. The user must guard against the effects of computer piracy by adopting an appropriate and secure computer configuration, in particular by a firewall and regularly updated virus detection and inoculation software. The Company cannot guarantee that the Site is free of viruses or other dangerous or malicious components. The Company shall in no event, to the extent permitted by applicable law, be liable for any direct or indirect, material or immaterial, damages or losses of any nature whatsoever resulting from the unavailability of the Site or from any use of the Site. The term "use" must be understood in the broad sense, i.e. any use of the Site whatsoever, legal or not. The user undertakes, in a general way, to respect all the regulations in force in Luxembourg.

Article 9 : Hyperlinks

The Site may provide hypertext links to websites published and/or managed by third parties. Insofar as no control is exercised over the content of these websites, the user acknowledges that the Company assumes no responsibility for the availability of these resources, and cannot be held liable, either for their legality or for the accuracy of the information contained therein. Unless expressly authorized by the Company, the Site may not be integrated in any way, in whole or in part, into another Internet site, for example by framing or linking.

Article 10 : Force majeure

The Company shall not be liable in case of force majeure or events beyond its control.

Article 11 : Evolution of the CGU

The company reserves the right to modify or complete the terms, conditions and mentions of the present GCU at any time and without notice. Consequently, the user is advised to regularly consult the latest version of the GCU available on the Site. Only the version accessible online is deemed to be in force.

Article 12 : Applicable law and competent court

Any dispute between the Company and the users of the Site shall be governed by Luxembourg law due to the fact that the Company's headquarters are located in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. In the event of a dispute, the parties shall endeavor to resolve it amicably. Failing such agreement, the courts of Luxembourg shall have exclusive jurisdiction. In the event of a dispute, a printed version of these GCUs and any annexed notices issued in electronic form will be accepted in any judicial or administrative proceedings.
